VOLUME 42, NO. 52

City Council
City of Sierra Madre
Gentlemen:

So help us, we'll sue!
Well, on second thought and another stiff shot of arnica—maybe we won't go to court—but we'll certainly go to bat.

This is what happened: Tuesday night we attended an important meeting at the Youth Hut which occupies a part of the controversial City property on East Sierra Madre Blvd.

It was a large meeting, the street was lined with cars and the Hut was lined with people. We were called upon to make a speech and did so, briefly. We then made our farewells and stepped out into the night. But not far.

Between the steps of the Hut and the front gate, you may recall, there lies an uncharted wilderness of boulders, old broken concrete, dead branches, numerous concavities and convexities all covered over softly with sycamore leaves to produce the most treacherous tank traps that man or nature could devise.

So we stepped out into the night, fell in a hole and disappeared from view.

We said a number of things which Clifford Ward won't print. We counted over our bruises and felt of our joints. Then, sitting amidst the boulders and leaves, we commenced to wonder why all the debris was allowed to remain, why nothing had ever been done to enhance the natural beauties around the Youth Hut.

By winter's moonlight the bare bones of the old sycamore trees are fine and clean-lined, silver and shadow. The clumps of live oak are dark and ancient, rooted where they must have been when Don Benito Wilson first moved through the valley and up into our foothills and then on to the peak above.

We wouldn't trade one of those old trees for all the manicured perfection of our pocket-handkerchief Park up town.

But we do think that if one-twentieth of the time that is put into tidying the little Park were spent in clearing away the waste and smoothing down the humps and holes about the rustic pine Hut—we would attain a piece of civic beauty difficult to surpass.

Temple City, down to the south of us, is on bended knee to the County Supervisors to get park area. And what will they get—if they get it? A square of flat bare land and the necessity of starting from scratch on a landscaping project.

Here, within our own boundaries, somebody threw us a natural. And we don't bother to pick up the lettuce.

We suggest that the Youth Hut land be considered as much a city Park as the other. We believe that a minimum of time could be spent in cleaning and clearing the unsightly waste and the knee-high weeds. And the stinging nettles.

(Have any of you gentlemen ever sent a troop of 9-year-old Brownies into a nettle patch to picnic? Well, don't do it in an election year.)

We suggest that during the rainy season when green-thumbed Mr. Lauber can do no park work—that he pot up cuttings of Pyracantha and Flowering Maple and other bright-berried or blossomed shrubs to bring color in under the trees and tie the snug little Hut into its surroundings.

We suggest nothing elaborate—the simplicity of the site should be retained. We suggest only what seems to be economical.

We suggest that all of us stop talking and DO something.
M. C. B.

THE PLANNERS:

"FILL THE TILL" IS WAR CRY OF FUND WORKERS

Almost one-quarter of the $3000 goal needed to support Sierra Madre's youth organizations for the coming year had been reached this morning, according to Community Youth Fund Chairman Dr. Milton Valois.

Three hundred volunteer workers, members of the sponsoring Kiwanis Club and participating youth groups went into the field Monday to begin the two-week drive which is Sierra Madre's only coordinated fund drive during the year.

No separate fund drives are conducted by Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Campfire Girls or Toy Loan, which are the organizations entirely dependent on the drive's success, Dr. Valois pointed out.

A 15-minute discussion of the needs met by the annual fund will be aired Monday at 5:45 over KAGH, and letters are to be sent home with all school children in the city.

Dr. Valois said that captains and workers would meet Friday for a check-up on the week's progress. New captains enlisted are Mrs. C. Lauren Maltby, Mrs. Florence Peterson, Mrs. Mary Haskins, Mrs. H. S. Dowling, Mrs. A. E. Morgan, Mrs. Herman Ohs, Mrs. Robert Bettencourt and Hans Guthrie.

600 MEMBERSHIPS SOUGHT BY CITY CONCERT GROUP

With the goal of good music ahead, the Sierra Madre Community Concerts Association will begin Monday to accept memberships for the first winter series of concerts to be held here.

Only 600 memberships, which coincides with the capacity of the school auditorium where the concerts will be given, are to be sold. At the close of the one-week campaign, the membership lists will be closed and no more accepted until next year.

Final plans for the drive are to be formulated at a dinner meeting Monday evening at Eaton's Santa Anita.

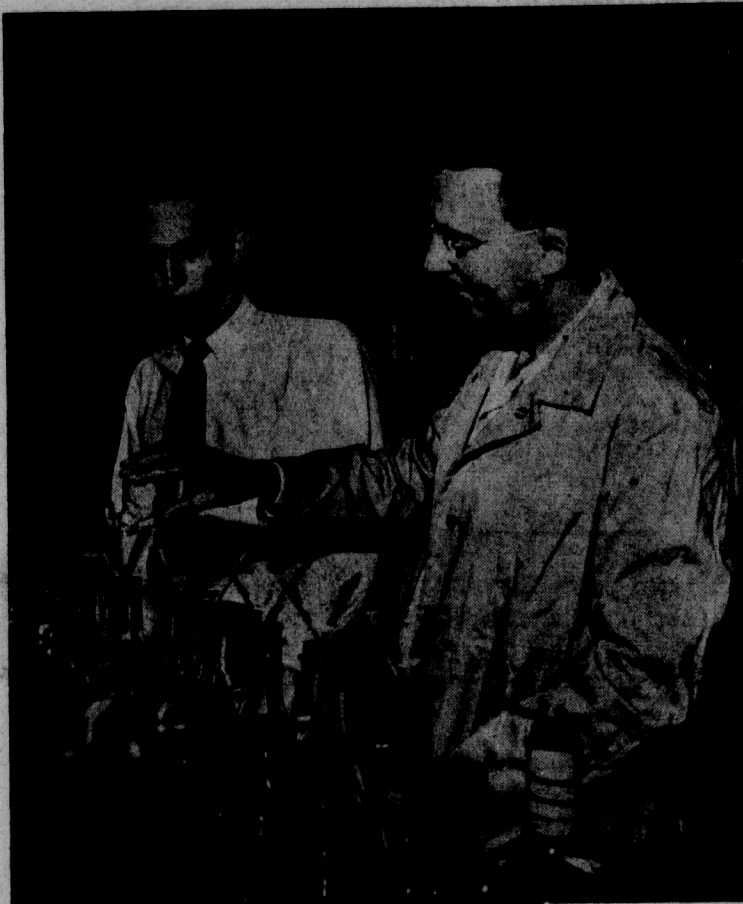

Headquarters will be established at Howard's Furniture Store for the week and Miss Lucille Thompson of Community Concerts will be in attendance to discuss the project.

Tickets for the entire series of three concerts will be priced at $5 plus a $1 Federal tax. Student tickets are priced at $2.50 with a 50-cent tax.

At the close of the membership drive, the local committee will choose artists for the coming season from a list that includes all the major concert singers and instrumentalists now before the public.

Committee members are Don

Commission Snubs Subdivision Master Plan to Snag Confusion Lay for Kids With Legal Snare

The Kids:

The Planning Commission this week hoisted a guinea for what appeared to be a crusade against children—at least children in numbers for Sierra Madre.

The idea that "kids don't pay for themselves" was discussed in length at a special meeting of the Commission, and it went unchallenged by any member of the group.

The question of child population came up as a side issue with the reading of a letter from Marlon W. Day of 303 West Montecito Ave., who asked for a reclassification of his lot from R-1 to R-2 so he could build a guest house on his property.

Commission Member Bayard Bigelow, in discussing the multiple dwelling zone problem, said:

"What about water? You increase the density of the population and then what are you going to do?"

Secretary Webster Vannier, the Commission's leading protagonist of big lots, big homes and zone upgrading for them, said:

"Yes, and what about schools? The cost of maintaining schools is all out of proportion to what these people (living in multiple units) pay in taxes. I believe in big lots (for single family homes); the bigger the lot, the fewer the children."

Councilman Herman Barter, who sits as the Council's representative on the Planning Commission, said that an increasing population here created a water problem, but he didn't particularly subscribe to the theory of governmental economy through "child elimination."

"You can make it more expensive for them to come to Sierra Madre, and then maybe they'll go someplace else," Vannier said, regarding big families who are forced to live in small homes on small lots by the law of simple economics.

Vannier, who is a decline-to-state himself, then let go with the punch line:

"Look at Altadena (where the lots and homes are big through deed restrictions). All the Republicans go there and the Democrats come here."

Tch, a Pity--- No School Monday

Attention, Public School kids! There will be no school session Monday, October 25, since Sierra Madre school teachers will attend an all-day institute meeting at the Henry Huntington School.

School Supt. Charles A. Skutt issued an invitation to all interested parents to attend the discussion of present day educational problems. The meeting takes up at 9:30 a.m. Dr. A. J. Barkley, Dean of the School of Education at Stanford University, will be the morning speaker.

If your organizational meeting is not scheduled in the Community Calendar as to date, time and place, call the Chamber of Commerce office and report to the secretary, Mrs. Rosalie Goodwin.

The Confusion:

Recommendation for a Master Plan that would guide future development of Sierra Madre this week was before the Planning Commission.

Such a regional plan would help the Commission out of a mire of confusion and misunderstanding into which its recent operations have fallen.

Included in a report on a subdivision proposed by Harold Spears for East Grandview Ave., Assistant City Engineer Howard W. Brod said:

"As soon as it is practicable, a Regional Plan for the city should be drafted, not only to expedite the handling of new subdivisions, but so that the subdivider will know what is expected before proposals are submitted."

Secretary Webster Vannier said, "If we get a Master Plan nailed down with future streets outlined and then someone starts building in the middle of one, he's out of luck."

But as a practical matter, Brod pointed out that before one can get started on a Master Plan there has to be a city map—an up-to-date city map.

To make sure that Sierra Madre will no longer be known as "the city without a map," Councilman Herman Barter said that he thought the Council could "scrape up enough money for it. It's something the city needs."

As for the Master Plan, Brod pointed out that state highway money could be got to help cover the expense of its development.

The Planning Commission, which blames the apparent confusion on its inability to do anything without a lengthy crisscross of referrals went on to other business without taking action to get the machinery for the Master Plan underway.

The Subdivision:

Contractor Harold Spears, after a long drawn-out battle with the Planning Commission, ended up with half a cake. He had permission this week to subdivide and build on eight lots—not the 15 lots he had originally proposed for his tract on the south side of Grandview Ave. and east of Canyon Ave.

Spears, who for three months has attempted to get action on his proposed subdivision, was stymied because of the Commission's lack of engineering and legal advice. At a special meeting of the Commission last week advice came from both sources.

The engineer said the subdivider would have to put in a street, curbs, gutters and sidewalks.

The attorney said the subdivider (Spears) would have to assume all legal responsibility for future damage resulting from alteration of drainage and that when old age claims him (Spears) his heirs and his estate would have to carry on that responsibility forever and ever.

"I'm whipped," Spears said. "You might as well forget about it right now. I'd never sign anything like that," he added.

The street that was recommended would have been placed at the east end of the subdivision and probably would have been an extension of Sycamore Place to the south. Spears pointed out that the cost would be prohibitive and that the street would not benefit his subdivision.

Commissioner Bayard Bigelow suggested that the whole matter be referred back to the city engineer and the city attorney "for action so that it can then be referred back here for action."

Spears balked at more referrals and said that he wanted the Subdivision Act (drawn up by City Attorney Tom Reynolds and adopted by the Council last January) clarified.

"No," said Bigelow. "You mean you don't know what it means?" Spears said.

"No," Bigelow replied.

Spears asked "how come" other subdividers don't have to put in curbs and gutters but "I have to."

Commission President May de Wright said, "Maybe we ought to decide on whether or not he (Spears) should put in sidewalks."

Bigelow: "No, it's for the attorney and the engineer to decide."

Assistant City Engineer H. W. Brod: "It's not for me to decide."

"Our Subdivision Act may say sidewalks should go in, but a little common sense should come in, too," Mrs. de Wright said.

The Commission then went to the question of drainage. Brod pointed out that Spears would have to fill up a drainage ditch and although there was only remote possibilities of future water damage, the city wanted to be free of entangling law suits.

Brod said that a street, to be installed by Spears, would eliminate the hazard and the city could then assume responsibility.

Spears said that a street had never been mentioned in other meetings with the Commission on the subdivision, and he pointed out that the subdivision ordinance contradicted itself "seven or eight times."

When the Commission insisted that a street be installed,

Vaccination Program for Cannon Co.

Local National Guardsmen squared their shoulders and courageously faced a battery of needles filled with anti-typhoid and tetanus serum, at their Monday evening meeting.

The following day nearly all complained of sore arms, dizziness and a slight increase in temperature.

A medical detachment of four men from the 23rd Infantry in Pasadena, vaccinated Guardsmen for typhoid and tetanus.

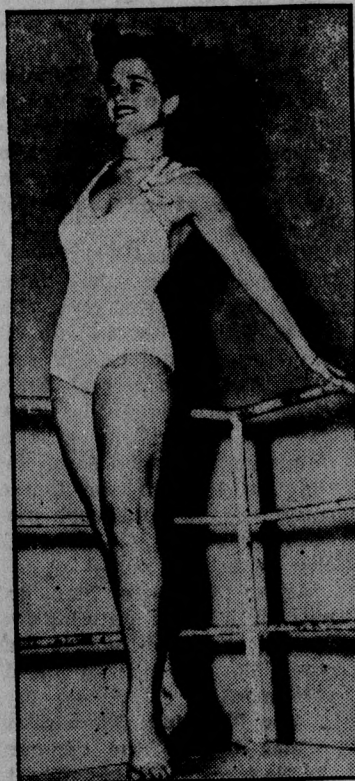

This first in a series of six shots covers a six-week period, (chin up men) and is done at a cost of about $1,000 to the government.

First String Local Boys Make Good

By JIM PETERSON

Sierra Madre came out on top with three first string men on the winning Wilson High School team that capped Friday night's annual Football Circus at the Rose Bowl.

Bobby McDaniel, Tom Henze and Leon Joplin, former local boy, all participated in the one quarter of play allotted each school. Four other Sierra Madresans are on the Wilson squad but saw no action.

Wilson "A" team brought honor to the school by winning the white football at the 15th annual circuits. The team that shows the best sportsmanship and playing ability is awarded the white football. If a school wins the ball three consecutive years it may be kept.

All of the Junior High Schools in the city took part, including the PCC Bullpups "A" and "B" teams and the Muir Colt "A" team. Two different teams play each quarter with Washington, McKinley, Elliot and the Muir Colt team representing West Pasadena, and Marshall, Wilson and the Bullpups teams representing East Pasadena.

Marshall kicked off to Washington in the first quarter and played a winning game all the way, scoring the first touchdown for the Eastern division.

Wilson kicked to McKinley at the start of the second period and, though they made no touchdowns, played a hard and winning game. Six of the boys on the "A" squad were from Sierra Madre and two played in the game. The boys on the squad are Leo Allison, Robin

IN PHILIPPINES TO RECLAIM EQUIPMENT

Mrs. Laura Cadmus Bezotte, 607 Woodland Drive, received a cablegram Monday morning from her husband, Fred E. Bezotte, who landed in Manila Sunday afternoon following a 30-hour plane trip from San Francisco.

For eleven years prior to World War II, Mr. Bezotte operated a diamond drilling business in the Philippines. He is returning to salvage any equipment left after the Jap invasion.

ATTEND DENTAL FORUM

Local dentists reported attending the all-day lecture last week at the Pasadena Athletic Club were Drs. Milton Valois and John Woehler.

C. O. Simpson, M.D., D.D.S., of St. Louis, spoke on "X-Ray Technique and Interpretation."

Cunning, David Noble and James Wilson. The two who played are McDaniel and Henze.

The third quarter was played by the Bullpups "B" team and Elliot Junior High. The Bullpups made a touchdown at the beginning of the quarter, walking all over Elliot. Elliot came back later in the game to score the only touchdown for the West side.

Muir Colt "A" team kicked to the Bullpups "A" team in the last quarter. It was the Bullpups all the way and they made a final touchdown bringing the score to 6 for the West and 18 for the East at the close of the game.

Fairbanks-Clougherty Vows Pledged in Double Ring Ceremony Sunday Afternoon

MR. AND MRS. DONALD EARL FAIRBANKS

A garden reception followed a double ring ceremony, Sunday afternoon at the Congregational Church, when pastors of both Bethany Church, Rev. Clarence Nida, and the Congregational Church, Rev. Carl Smith, joined to hear wedding vows recited by Elizabeth Jane Clougherty and Donald Earl Fairbanks.

After a two week honeymoon in Oregon, the young couple will live at Huntington Beach.

The bride, given by her father, Joseph E. Clougherty, 265 East Montecito, was escorted to the altar which was decorated with baskets of white dahlias, gladioli and chrysanthemums.

The groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elbert E. Fairbanks, was attended by E. H. LaLone of Corona Del Mar.

Featuring a portrait neckline with Chantilly lace inset, the bridal gown was of ivory satin, long sleeves, tight bodice and circular skirt. A bonnet type headpiece held a fingertip veil and she carried a tailored cascade of white carnations.

Huge brown satin ribbons tied the bouquets of pale marigolds carried by the attendants, who were identically attired in brocade faille with headbands of yellow net. Maid of honor, Joan Clougherty, the bride's sister, wore yellow brocade, while attendants were in a cream shade: Mary Gertrude Skidmore of Flagstaff, Ariz., cousin of the bride, Jean and Carolyn Brooks of this city and Pauline Compton of Baldwin Park.

Ushers were Roy Edwards, Jr., and Robert Buchan of this city, Gordon Jones of Monrovia and George Moradian of Pasadena. Soloist, Bob Burris was accompanied by Richard Gabel.

Over 250 guests at the reception held at the bride's home were greeted by Mrs. Joseph E. Clougherty in black and white crepe with white accessories and gardenia corsage, and Mrs. Elbert Fairbanks in grape crepe with grey accessories and an orchid corsage.

The bride is a Pasadena City College graduate. The groom also attended PCC and is an Air Force veteran of two and a half years in the South Pacific.

Under state legislation the county is charged with the administration of services for handicapped children. This is now done by the Department of Charities. These persons are placed this function under the charities department places a stigma or implication of poverty that is undesirable. It was believed the stigma would be removed if the Cripple Children's Act were administered under the Health Department. It would also be more acceptable because it would be in the hands of professionals trained in nursing and public health.

Motorcycle Fails to Make Curve

Two 15-year-old boys were seriously injured in a motorcycle accident on the Chantry Flats Road Friday evening when Spencer Lyon of Azusa and Dwight Click of Glendora were thrown from their vehicle.

According to police, the two, riding the same cycle, were speeding down the inclined road and failed to make a sharp curve. The accident was

Nursery President Resigns

MRS. DOROTHY TILLER

Due to the resignation of Mrs. Dorothy Tiller as president, Mrs. Howell N. White, Jr., has been named acting president of the Sierra Madre Community Nursery School Association. Other new officers who will work with Mrs. White are: Vice-president; Mrs. C. H. Brown, Jr.; secretary, Mrs. Rodney Gale; ways and means committee, Mrs. George Barnett; Mrs. Charles James, social chairman. George Parr remains as treasurer and Mrs. Herbert Kelley as chairman of the equipment committee.

It was with great regret that the Association accepted the resignation of Mrs. Tiller. She has given unstintingly of her time and energy to the Nursery School as one of the founders and as president. She has also been instrumental in the writing of the Nursery School Handbook which received wide acclaim.

The new executive committee started its term Monday, October 18, at the home of Mrs. Rodney Gale, 669 Sturtevant Drive, with the confirmation of new officers and a briefing of Nursery School policies and official duties.

Bus Schedule and Immunization Have Board's Attention

Sierra Madre School Board in a regular meeting Tuesday evening gave attention to health measures and the decrease of the morning kindergarten schedule by 15 minutes.

In accord with the County Health Department the local staff immunization program will be carried out for influenza.

Supt. Charles Skutt reports the absence of type A or B flu among the teaching staff last year, due to this service.

Because the noon hour schedule was too short to complete the bus schedule, the Kindergarten morning session has been shortened 15 minutes; making hours 9 a. m. to 11:45 a. m.

The Board decided that the school bus would not include any new stops unless five or more children were to be picked up.

Board members inspected the new sound-proof vice-principal's office and adjacent hallway. Installation of the new audiometer, to test children's hearing, made sound-proofing necessary.

Sylvia Weber New Mariner Skipper

A new Skipper for the Girl Scout Mariners has been appointed to succeed Jane Morse who resigned "through necessity" last week. New Skipper is Mrs. Sylvia Weber, assistant leader for the past six months.

Ship "Andromeda" of Pasadena will meet with local Mariners Saturday afternoon, October 23, for a business meeting, baseball game and barbecue at the Youth Hut.

Past-Skipper Morse, head of the Mariners for nearly 18 months, told of resignation plans at a recent meeting.

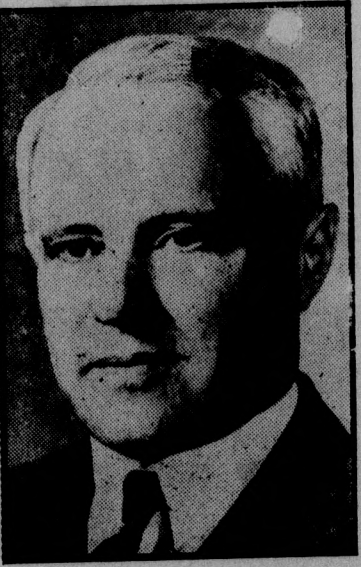

The group is now searching for a new leader who is capable of giving swimming instruction to the Scouts.

Mariners heading newly-formed committees are: Lucille Rondeau, Baby Care Co-operation With Mountaineers; Beverly Stunden, Business Meetings and Barbecue; Joyce Thompson, Father-Daughter Banquet; Susie Griffin, Baby Layette for Europe; Sue Marmion, Assisting Girl Scout Leaders with Younger Troops; and Nancy Webster, Program Chairman.

CATHOLIC SOCIETY

At the recent meeting of St. Rita Altar Society in Church school hall, hostesses were Mesdames, Irwin Podliska, Joseph McCloskey and Ed Ostermann.

Science Chieftain

Dr. Karl T. Compton, above, is the nation's "scientific chief of staff." President of MIT since 1930 and a famed atomic scientist, Compton heads the Armed Forces Research and Development Board, succeeding Dr. Vannevar Bush, who resigned.

CATHOLICS CELEBRATE HALLOWEEN

A Halloween party, hardtimes dance, games and lunch will be held on the grounds of St. Rita School, Saturday evening, October 30.

Heading the St. Rita Altar Society committees are Mrs. Margaret Podliska and Mrs. Ed Ostermann.

Halley's Comet will next be seen in 1986.

KNOW YOUR NEIGHBOR

BY MARJORIE BARTER

"The Old Man of the Mountain" he's called and if you can get him alongside a mesquite fire on a chill winter night, you'll hear some yarns to delight the most discriminating listener.

To the uninitiated, however, he's Merrill Miller who lives on high an acre up on Orange Drive in the Terrace, surrounded by books, Deodars, and Damson plums. A former Ranger, he is also a master of many arts and can bud an avocado as neatly as he calls the complicated patterns of a square dance.

He set out by mule once, to travel down the backbone of the Mexican Sierras. He went on a whim—and with considerable foresight and knowledge of the people among whom he would wander, he stitched all his cartridges up in his saddle blanket, wore a $1 Ingersoll watch and gave the only gun to the mozo, or Indian packer, who traveled with him.

(Giving the gun to the native was pure practicality because the gun had a tendency to shoot around corners. The mozo had learned to allow for the bend and had become a fairly good, if astonishing marksman.)

They progressed slowly and uneventfully south through the Mexican mountains, the Old Man in the lead, pack animals next, mozo last.

But one day the Old Man looked up from the trail—straight into the muzzles of three guns. Behind the guns were three banditos, mounted and fanned out in a v. His mule stopped. The armed mozo was back down the trail—the three guns were before him. One might miss—but three? Never.

He began to laugh. He sat back in his saddle and just plain laughed. Suddenly there was a titter from ahead and the banditos began to laugh. The four men, facing one another under such unusual circumstances, sat and rocked they laughed.

"I know why I laughed," says the Old Man. "I was so scared I was hysterical. But I never have figured out why they laughed."

As the mozo came around the bend they got down to business. His watch? Phaugh—only a little tin one! Cartridges? He had none. Gun—but such a gun—look at it! The carne seco (dried beef) they would take—but they shook their heads at the Old Man. He had no watch, no cartridges and he allowed a mozo to carry a gun—he was crazy without a doubt. They would not molest him. They went away. Poor crazy man. But alive.

Further along on the same trip the Old Man arrived at a pueblo of sufficient size to have a nice plaza and a few motor cars among the carretas.

Speaking only a cursory Spanish, he wandered in and out of the shops but could find no compatriots. So he walked over to the plaza, center of activity, and shouted as loudly as he could.

"Does anybody here speak English?" Instantly a battered car pulled up and its driver leaned out, "Wanta taxi?" But those were the only two words he knew.

Mexico can spellbind—its contrasts fascinate and pique the imagination. In the City you can step from your very modern hotel into the street where a band of barefoot Indians trots by to the markets. You can discuss politics with your cab driver as you lunge perilously down Avenida Madrid—or exchange lyrical good mornings with the charcoal vendor as he sags along upon his burro.

Change is all about—and nowhere. When I traveled there with my parents, who had met 35 years before in Chihuahua State, our train entered the Yaqui Indian country.

"Can you remember when we always took a heavy military guard as we went through here?" asked Mother.

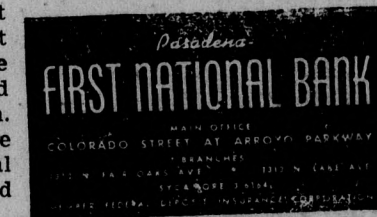

"Surely," Father remembered, "They used to come aboard armed to the teeth. Well, the Yaquis were a fierce people in those days."

"News" Blows Out Candles, Enters 43rd Year

HUGE AVOCADO SEEDLING BECOMES PRIZE ROOT TREE HOW A PEST BECOMES A BLESSING

SIERRA MADREAN THURBER with one of his budded avocados. The new bud is upright. The new root stock is known as Thurber No. 1 and is the stem bent to the right.

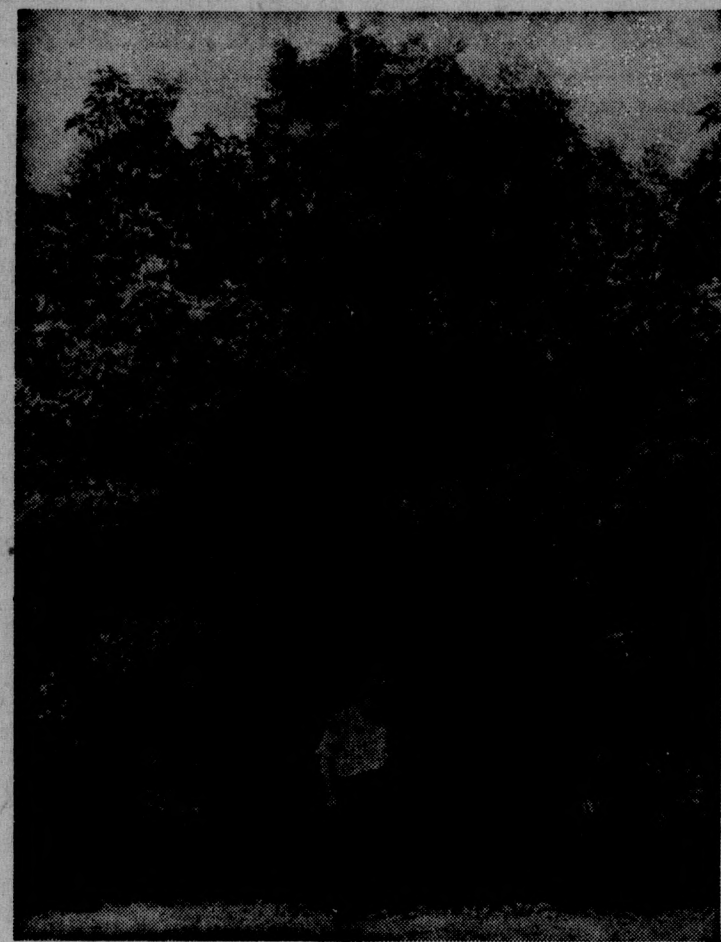

For several years the Walter D. Thurbers of 470 Manzanita Ave. were pestered with avocados.

The pestering always occurred in the fall of the year when the fruit on a giant 45-year-old Mexacali avocado tree on their front terrace ripened.

There was more fruit than the family could eat so they shared it with their friends, but still the little avocados fell and had to be literally shoveled off the terrace. There was little market for such fruit of a "seedling" variety.

Deploping the waste, Mrs. Thurber began to make inquiries among leaders of the avocado industry, with the result that every known test was applied to the tree and fruit to determine its freedom from disease.

COL. WALTER D. THURBER inspects giant avocado seedling which grew in his yard and now found to be a long-sought root stock for budding other varieties.

It came through all the tests. Then it developed that the California Avocado Society has been searching for such a tree on which to bud from tested budding stock for production of avocados for the market.

Now the big tree is registered as the Thurber Avocado, Root Stock No. 1, and the first batch

Radio Message Tells Hopeful News of Florence Evans

Bob Evans, who is attending the University of California at Berkeley, phoned his parents Sunday that he had heard over the radio a direct report on Communist conditions at Tsinan where his aunt, Florence Evans, is stationed. The message: "Definite verbal report of missionaries of Tsinan are well and usefully employed—no financial food problem—Cheeloo University spared—suburb property considerably damaged."

Note—The hospital where Miss Evans works is a part of Cheeloo University.

Busy Program at Anoakia These Days Senior Rings Given

Seniors of Anoakia School will be presented with their traditional senior class rings by Miss Alma J. Wylie, principal, in ceremonies this evening, October 21.

Nationally known authority on youth guidance, Mrs. Dorothy Waldo Phillips of Lansdowne, Pa., addressed Anoakia students, faculty and parents last week.

of young trees are being budded to a registered strain of Fuertes by Carter Barrett, chairman of the California Avocado Society's Root-Stock committee, who is enthusiastic about the prospects of the new strain.

In the meanwhile Thurber, who is on the staff of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, carefully tends 600 of his first year's young trees which have just been budded, and thinks regretfully of the thousands of seeds which went to waste over a period of years.

NEW PARKING RESTRICTIONS IN EFFECT

An ordinance regulating parking in special zones of the city's business district went into effect this week.

But before it becomes enforceable the street department will have to paint and stencil curb areas designating restricted parking.

The ordinance, drawn up by City Attorney Thomas A. Reynolds and Chief of Police G. G. McMillan, will not materially affect habits of motorists here.

It provides for parking restrictions and markings in the following manner:

1. RED—No standing, stopping or parking at any time. Bus zones will be painted red, however.

2. YELLOW—Indicates loading zone. Restricted every day between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. except Sundays and holidays. Commercial loading, 20 minute limit. Passenger loading, three minute limit.

3. WHITE—Passenger loading zone. Limit, three minutes. Applies during same hours as YELLOW loading. Also applies around the clock in front of hotels. Prohibition applies at all times in front of auditoriums, club houses and theaters except when they are closed.

4. GREEN—Parking limit of 20 minutes between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. except Sundays and holidays.

Bus zones will be marked red with black letters: "No Standing—Bus Zone."

Maximum penalty set up in the ordinance is three months in jail or $300 fine or both.

WE LOOK BACK . . .

Forty-two years ago, in a small building on Esperanza street (handily next door to S. R. G. Twycross, the "Pooh-Bah of the Foothills") edition Number 1, Volume 1, of the Sierra Madre NEWS came off the presses.

From that day to this there has been no lapse in publication although there have been changes in ownership, location, assuredly of presses and typefaces and ladies' fashions. And changes, too, in the community which the NEWS has served.

Forty-two years ago R. T. Cowles was editor and proprietor of the little 10 by 14 inch paper which contained:

Two church notices—one from the First Congregational Church, James M. Campbell, Pastor; one from the Church of the Ascension, Charles E. Bentham, Rector.

A note that the Public Library contained 2300 books and a Board presided over by J. G. Blumer.

Information that school enrollment had topped 100.

That a new Pacific Electric station was being built.

And finally triumphant news that wires were being installed by the Edison Company and "we shall have electric lights in a very few days!" . . .

A small town weekly newspaper must be like a journal kept for a city. An honest and detailed record of events which make up day-to-day living.

In the NEWS files covering almost half a century, are records of births, marriages and deaths. The development of new sections, the securing of water rights and the endless concern that they be protected. The growth of schools and the passing of the horse as a means of rapid transit.

There are tragic records of the repercussions of two catastrophic wars—the calling to arms, departures overseas, return for some, starved and wreathed honor rolls of the dead for others. In a small town those stories leave scars as personal loss cuts across an entire community.

What more than a living journal must a newspaper be to the people it serves?

Two things—a voice and a conscience. A voice for both majority and minority opinions—speaking objectively and without bias in its news columns, reserving the right to express definite opinions in its editorial columns.

As a conscience a newspaper must, as the NEWS does in this issue particularly, bring matters of political import into focus for all to see.

Only by the exercise of a mind in thinking and the exercise of a right in voting can democratic government be retained in this country.

Thus, with the candles blown out and the wish made, the NEWS enters its forty-third year of publication, conscious of its three-fold duty to the people of Sierra Madre, striving ever to execute these duties more ably.

WHO'S PLANNING WHAT?

Planning is serious business. More often than not it is a headache for the planners.

But that is no excuse for haphazard, hit-and-miss planning. That is what we have in Sierra Madre today.

This city now has no plan. It goes pretty much by whim and by guess of the present Planning Commission. And through this kind of operation property rights—and even human rights—are jeopardized.

Meetings of the Planning Commission indicate that it doesn't have the proper tools to work with. The tools it does have are not fully understood (the so-called subdivision ordinance, for example).

The city needs a master plan. Definitely. But it needs more than that. It needs a planning policy that a master plan can be based upon. It needs a policy that can be understood by the people of the town—in other words, a policy based on logic. It needs a policy that the Planning Commission will follow.

That does not mean necessarily a policy of complete restriction based on what the planners think the city SHOULD have been. A policy is needed for what the city is today.

This town is going to change—not so much in character—but in population. It's going to grow until it's bursting at the seams. You can't sit back and legislate against it or manage it through thought control.

You've got to plan for it and plan sensibly, bearing in mind human nature, human rights and property rights.

This is a big job, this planning. And the City Council and the Planning Commission had better get together. The Council, which purports to be recreation conscious (and recreation must be planned), had better pick up the glove and see that the Planning Commission gets some technical advice and see that it USES it.

It's very evident that planning is a job for experts—at least the laying down of a master plan.

DEADLINE CLOSE AT HAND ON ABSENTEE BALLOTING

Don't lose your vote!

Voters who will be out of the county on election day, November 2, have until next Thursday, October 28, to apply for absentee ballots, Registrar of Voters Benjamin S. Hite announced this week.

Absentee votes may be cast every day except Saturday and Sunday at the registrar's main office, 808 N. Spring Street, Los Angeles.

Ballots may be requested by mail. The voter must give his home address, his mailing address, and the reason for the absentee ballot. The request must be signed by the voter. The ballot must then be filled out and notarized on or before November 2.

The absentee ballot must be returned to the registrar before 5 p.m., November 8.

If plans change and a person with an absentee ballot wishes to vote in town, it will be necessary to surrender the extra ballot to officials at the polling place.

Don't lose your vote!

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR...

POOR SPORTSMANSHIP IN THE CEMETERY

Evidently a certain few teen-age boys, and younger, have recently been practicing a strangely twisted idea of "fun" in our local cemetery. This vandalism has taken the form of desecrating the resting place of the dead on some six private family lots: in one case it was flower jars wantonly smashed to bits; in two other instances heavy tombstones have been thrown off their bases and now lie prostrate on the ground; in another, the concrete pedestal of a recently erected monument was defaced by chipping off a section of the edge; in still another instance, a beautiful oak tree's bark has been so deeply hacked with axe or hatchet in half a dozen places as to mar it for all time; in the case of a recently erected wall around a family plot, several square feet of stonework were thrown or pushed to the ground while the cement was still soft, and since the wall was completed the vandals have broken off one of the coping stones and muddled the crypt intended for an urn. All this happened in the section of the cemetery adjoining the end of East Montecito Avenue.

Information is already available as to who one of the offenders reportedly is, but it is very evident there are more than one. If all parents, teachers, pastors, Scoutmasters and other friends of adolescent boys will take it upon themselves to make a few common-sense remarks, in a friendly informative spirit, to their young folk, on the nature, purpose and sanctity of a cemetery, the more mature public sentiment might be activated and so spread to the few who need it most. A lot in the cemetery is, incidentally, as much the private property of its owner as is your dooryard or mine, and as such warrants protection to the full extent of the law.

This whole matter is one more reason for all of us to get behind the current drive and contribute to the Community Chest, which is a major civilizing agency. Sierra Madre evidently needs more than its present seven Troops of Boy Scouts, and when the last eligible boy becomes a Scout, such vandalism as described above will undoubtedly cease, because Scouts are taught true sportsmanship. Their Twelfth Scout Law is: "A Scout is Reverent"—and no boy who respects that law would be so poor a sport as to desecrate the resting place of the dead, who cannot strike back.

—One of the Many Interested Lot Owners of the Sierra Madre Cemetery.

"Never Should'a Put a
MoPar Power-Punch Piston
Ring in His Nose!"

You can say that again! There is only one place to put MoPar piston rings. That's in the engines of Chrysler, Plymouth, Dodge or DeSoto cars that have reached the "oil-burning" stage. MoPar power-punch piston rings restore pep and power... save on both gas and oil bills. Don't waste hard-earned money. Let us examine your car today.

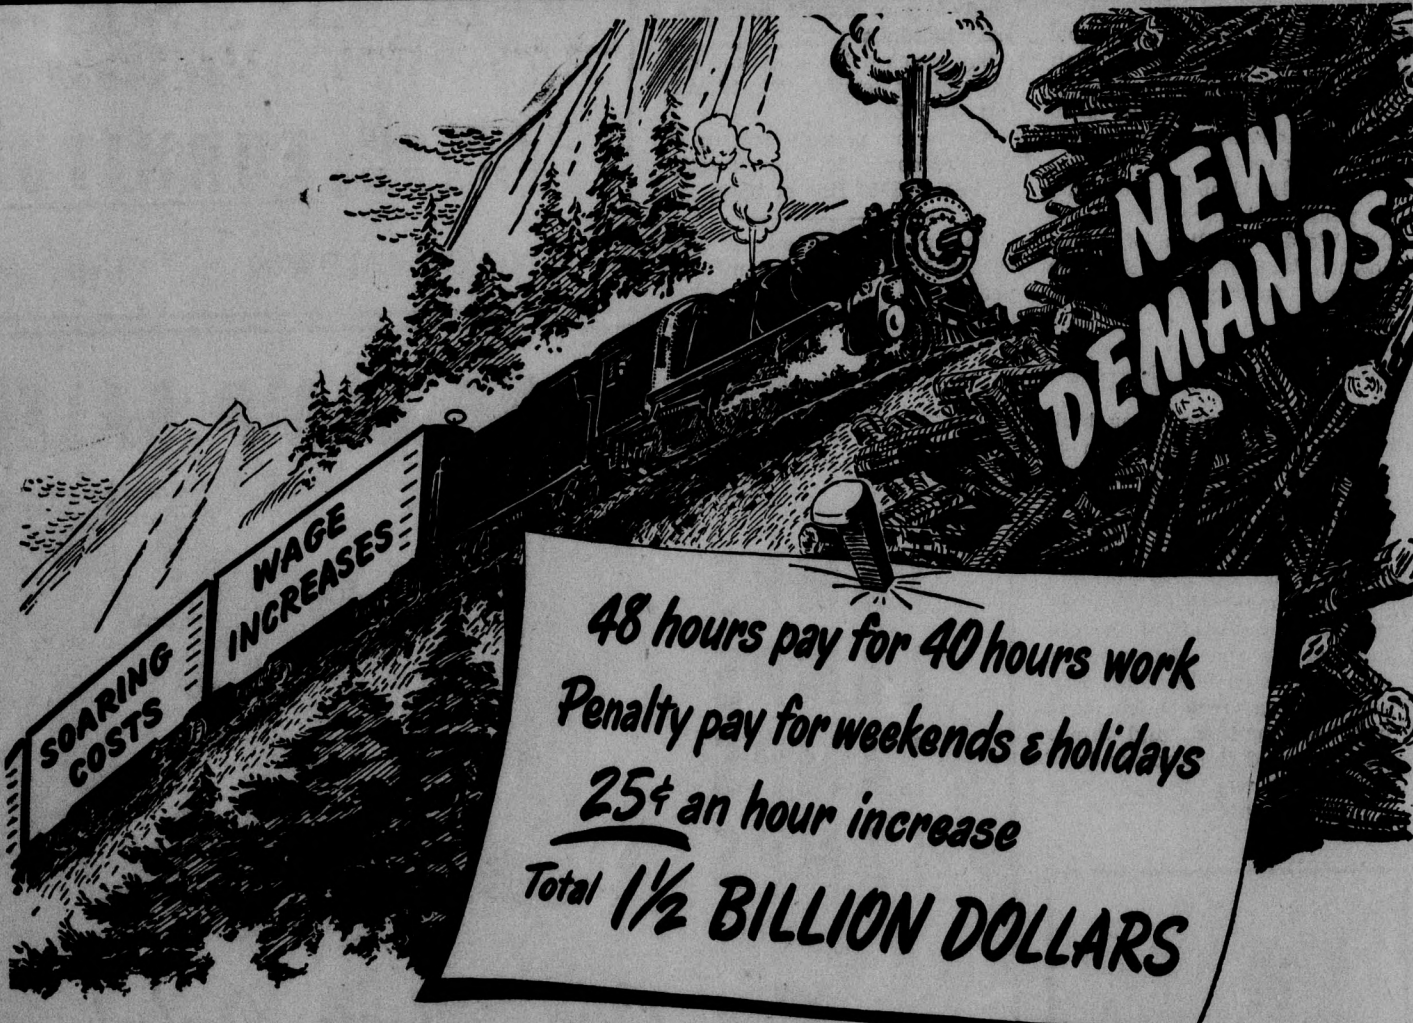

Had a Brake Check-Up?

Just because your car may stop when you apply the brake pedal doesn't mean your brakes are in good condition. The brake lining may be about worn away and the rivets may be grinding into the brake drum. It only takes a minute to make an examination. Bring your car in today for brake check. Saves money in the long run and lives, too.

There are many cars on the highway today that need adjustments, for perfect performance, on timing, carburetor, spark plugs, steering assembly, generator, emergency brake, lights, and a good lubrication job. How's your car perform?

48 hours pay for 40 hours work
Penalty pay for weekends & holidays
25¢ an hour increase
Total 1 1/2 BILLION DOLLARS

1 1/2 Billion Dollar Road Block!

RAILROADS MUST OPERATE around the clock every day and night of the year.

Although they know this, leaders of 16 railroad unions are demanding a five-day, Monday through Friday, week for one million railroad employees.

They want 48 hours pay for 40 hours work—in itself a 20% wage increase.

They also demand a minimum of 12 hours pay for any work performed on Saturdays, and 16 hours pay for any work performed on Sundays and holidays.

On top of all this they want an additional increase of 25¢ an hour for every employee!

You'd Pay the Bill!

Summing up these demands, they mean that these union leaders seek to force the railroads to give one million employees an annual raise which would average $1500 per employee!

The total cost of this would be no less than 1 1/2 billion dollars per year, which is more than twice the expected net income of the railroads this year.

You'd pay the bill, because if these increased costs are forced on the railroads, they must have still further rate and fare increases.

Demands Unreasonable

These employees have had substantial raises during and since the war. Their average weekly earnings are higher than the average weekly earnings of workers in manufacturing industries. They have more job security than the average worker in American industry. They also enjoy paid vacations, a retirement system and other advantages more generous than the average worker receives.

In contrast with the demands of these 16 unions, which add up to the equivalent of 48¢ an hour, the Conductors and Trainmen recently settled their wage request for an increase of 10¢ an hour.

Railroads Run for Everybody—Not Employees Alone

The railroad industry must serve not one but many groups—producers, businessmen, shippers, passengers and the general public—night and day, every day of the year. These unions are proceeding in utter disregard of this important difference between railroads and other industries. Industrial plants can be shut down over weekends and holidays, but freight, mail, express and passengers must continue to move. Everybody who enters railroad employment knows this.

Strike Threat

On September 18, 1948, the leaders of these 16 unions began taking a strike vote. But the threat of a strike will not alter the opposition of the railroads to such unreasonable demands!

Sunday Reception Planned for Couple Married 50 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Horner are holding open house next Sunday, October 24, at their home, 196 E. Sierra Madre Blvd., from 3 to 6 in the afternoon when they will receive congratulations from their many friends and relatives on their 50th year of married life, the anniversary of which falls on October 27.

The Horners have lived in Sierra Madre three years. The earlier part of their lives was at Kingman, Ariz., where they were active in the business and social life of the city. Mr. Horner was president of the Arizona Central Bank, organized the Chamber of Commerce and the Nosam Club. He also served on the board of education several years. Mrs. Horner was active socially and in Red Cross and is a Past Worthy Matron of the Kingman Eastern Star.

The Horners have a daughter, Mrs. Wilbur S. Doten of Sherman Oaks. An older daughter passed away six years ago as did a son, Philip Horner, a veteran of World War I.

Spears withdrew his plan and asked that he be allowed to build on only the first eight lots east of Canyon Ave.

"I get further behind every time I come in here," Spears said. "What will you stick me with if I develop the first 500 feet and forget the rest?"

"It's a new subdivision and you'll have to go through the same thing all over again," Commission Secretary Webster Vannier said.

Spears said he wanted to sell four lots this year and four the next. This action, he pointed out, could be taken under the State Subdivision Act without filing formal subdivision papers.

"Not under our Subdivision Act," Vannier said. "The act is now being tested in the courts and you can wait until its adjudicated."

Vannier said Spears should take up the matter of the sidewalks with the engineer and the city attorney, but Spears countered with the statement that "it is a Planning Commission problem."

"Are we just rubber stamps?" Bigelow asked. Mrs. Sally Osgood declared: "Is there no way to amend the ordinance? Do we have to abide by everything in it?"

Bigelow then had someone read him the ordinance (he had forgotten his glasses.) The ordinance said that if something were impractical (such as sidewalks) then the Commission could give a variance.

"It's impractical," Bigelow said triumphantly. "No, it's not," said Vannier.

Bigelow then looked at Vannier and said with finality, "We're looking for a loophole."

Frank Spencer made the motion: No sidewalks, no curbs, no gutters for the eight lots which will be 60 feet by about 156 feet.

Someone suggested that Spears keep the parking easement area clear, but he pointed out that after his lots were sold he had no control over them and new owners could plant shrubs and trees as they saw fit.

"Well, Spears and his heirs and his estate should see that it's done forever and ever," someone else quipped.

BALLING BABY TALK

By MAXINE BALLING

WOWIE! Did you ever notice the fancy shirts worn by cowboys and vaqueros in parades? "Don Carlos" is a fiery red and black flannel, with solid red trim, yellow braid edging, and three buttons on the sleeve. $3.95. "Billy the Kid" is just slightly "quieter," but still fancy enough to thrill the would-be cowboy. Solid colors, with bright braid trim and embroidered ironies on the pockets. For 2.95.

EATONS OF CALIFORNIA also sent us some beautiful flannel shirts that are just the ticket for school these chilly days. Lots of different plaids and checks in the best colors, red and black, white and black, yellow and black, green and black. Sizes 2 to 20. They're only 2.95.

IF YOU'VE BEEN NICE ENOUGH to read this far, I'll slip you an advance tip on a couple of this week's Friday Night Specials. (All Monrovia Stores are open Friday nights, you know.) MOTHERS who have to buy lots of socks for busy little feet will like the new Bonnie Doon socks. They're not only nice colors and patterns, but they are made much better than the average socks for children. Boys' striped socks, sizes 7 to 8½ are 39c. Pastels and dark colors, sizes 8½ to 10½ are 59c. Nylons 8½ to 10½ are $1. We also have gym socks for 49c.

Rayons Go To Class

Back to School Clothes Are Gay

An old favorite—spun rayon gabardine—will be seen this year in everything from school dresses and skirts to dressy frocks with handsome tucking and intricate details. This fabric is popular because it tailors so beautifully and will withstand hard, rough wear. Many of this year's spun rayon gabardines have been treated with special finishes for crease resistance and shrinkage resistance. These finishes often impart a more luxurious appearance and soft "hand."

Other members of the spun rayon family are popular with the school crowd because they come in rich fall colors and textures—even though they are lightweight and are often washable. Among these rayons are the linen-textures, hopsackings, and other novelty weaves. Your best assurance of the washability of these fabrics is an informative label. For best results, remember to iron spun rayon with a hot iron, when the fabric is almost dry.

For a Saturday night dancing date, there is a variety of rayon fabrics that will make high school and college girls ohh and ahh.
